About IMSU JCS

IMSU Journal of Communication Studies (IMSU JCS) is a blind peer reviewed journal published annually by the Department of Mass Communication, Imo State University, Owerri. The journal accepts papers from all areas of Mass Communication and other communication-related disciplines. The journal accepts both empirical and position papers of high quality. All articles for submission must be original to the author(s) and free from plagiarism.

The purpose of IMSU Journal of Communication Studies is to contribute to the body of knowledge in the field of communication and media studies. The journal is both in print and electronic versions. The electronic version is an open access journal.

Any author shall be entitled to one copy of the volume in which his/her article appears. In the case of co-author, the authors shall have only one complimentary copy and will be given more copies upon request and payment of certain amount which will be stipulated.

Author(s) are expected to have their work written in British English with proper grammar and spellings. The journal will not be responsible for correcting the grammatical errors in a given paper. If the errors in a work are much, the editorial team of the journal reserves the right to reject the paper.

Submission

All papers are to be submitted electronically as a Microsoft Office word document attachment to imsujcs@gmail.com alongside evidence of payment of assessment fee of 5,000. Authors whose papers are accepted after the blind peer review will be required to pay a publication fee of 15,000. Authors will be communicated the decision of the editorial board on the status of their submitted papers.
